

B. ASSOCIATION AT HARNED.

Grand Meeting For Baptist Folks Last Week—Miss Ella Hensley Assists in Organizing A Union.

THREE HUNDRED ATTEND.

A News representative in speaking to the Rev. L. S. Sanders, a traveling officer of the Baptist Orphans Home, about the annual meeting of the Breckenridge Baptist Association at Harned, he said, "We had most inspiring services both days."

The Association met there August 26 and 27 and the Rev. Sanders gave the following notes.

Rev. Compton re-elected Moderator and Mr. Herndon, of Irvington, elected elected Clerk.

The opening address was delivered by the Rev. Cox, of Philpot, and sermons were preached by Rev. J. J. Willet, of Ekron, and Rev. Everett, of Harnedburg; Rev. James Lewis, of Harnedburg; W. D. Powell, J. D. Madison, of Owensboro, and T. A. Johnson, of Louisville, were among the interested workers present.

$300 was pledged for church building fund and the Association made an earnest plea for $1000 for missions to be raised during the coming year.

Thursday afternoon the women held a camp meeting and organized a Woman's Missionary Union. Mrs. Robert J. K. of Cloverport, and Miss Ella Hensley, of Harnedburg, were there.

Rev. Sanders said, "The Harned folks treated us fine to chicken, pie and cake, and made all we feel it was good to be with them."

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklin's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few hours. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c. at Severs drug store.

Prohibit Them.

The citizens of Cloverport said by their votes last Saturday that whiskey cannot be sold legally there. The majority against the proposition was 80. They'll keep on coming to Cannelton after jugs and bottles full of the stuff. Some of them will have it as long as it is made—Cannelton Telephone.

A Burglar in Town

His name is "Bad cough". He doesn't care for gold or silver but he will steal your health away. If he appears in your house arrest him at once with Ballard's Horehound Syrup. It may mean consumption if you don't. A cure for all coughs, colds and chest troubles. Price 25c. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by A. P. Fisher.

THE VOODOO IN HAITI.

Human Sacrifice to the God of the Serpent.

There is ample proof that human beings have been offered as sacrifices to the god of the serpent in Haiti. A French archbishop of the island describes a visit made by one of the priests to a voodoo assembly. The man had disguised himself as a negro, and he was thus able to mingle undisturbed with the crowd in the obscurity of the sacred circle. After the white cock and white goat had been slain and offered up and their blood had been sprinkled on the company a young negro came forward and prostrated himself before the priestess. Then, still kneeling, he made his prayer:

"O maman, I have a favor to ask of thee."

"What is it, my son?" said the priestess encouragingly.

"Will thou not give us, to complete the sacrifice, the goat without horns?"

The priestess gave a sign of assent. The crowd roundabout separated, and there was revealed a child standing with its feet bound. The French priest rushed away in search of assistance in reverting the unholy rite, but the authorities on duty at the back and in front through the pompador, then he brought back to the knot again and the ends tucked under a loop of the hair of the two tied in the knot.

Don't Be Discouraged.

Beginning a thing is easy. It's the sticking to it that the difficulty. The test of character is the ability to go on and finish. It is a rare virtue and an exceedingly valuable one, for whatever you boldly start yourself to do, there will surely come a time of discouragement, when you doubt if, after all, it is worth while. Look out for that! It is the time when you are tempted to turn back. It is there that the danger lies. It doesn't matter what your loss is—earning a living or making a home or conquering a disease. The discouragement is bound to come. Don't give way to it. Be prepared for it and make up your mind to keep on just the same.

IN FASHION'S REALM.

How a Young Girl's Hair Should Be Arranged.

THE EFFECT MUST BE SIMPLE

Anything the Least Bit Artificial Is Inartistic and Incongruous—Ribbons Adorned Emphatically and to the Fresh Young Faces They Surround.

When a young girl reaches that milestone in her career which is marked by the lengthening of her locks and the turning up of her braids she is as deeply concerned about the fashion of doing her hair as any debutante is over the question of puffs or puffs. Candidly, the subject of hairdressing means more to the girl who wears her braids up for the first time than it does to her older sister. She has nothing to guide her in the way of former experience, and she does not always get that sympathetic help older sisters and readers if they remembered how important the coiffure is to the schoolgirl.

Doing the hair up does not mean that the hair is actually arranged on the top of the head. The "top" is used comparatively in contrast to the hanging braids or curls worn by girls under fourteen. In a general way the young girl's coiffure is following in the lead of the one adopted by fashionable women. It suggests ever so slightly a Grecian effect by reason of its fullness at the back of the head.

A simple way to manage this style of dressing is to roll the sides of the hair back from the face, either from a middle part or straight back over the forehead, and twist it altogether in a double loop, pinning the coils across the head in a horizontal line.

Anything the least bit suggestive of artificiality in a young girl's hairdressing is not only inartistic, but borders on the incongruous. Naturalness is the point aimed at, and a marcel wave, no matter how cleverly it is accomplished, stamps any head with artificiality. Almost all girls' hair has a slight wave of its own around the face, and this may be encouraged by simple means, but not by the iron.

Fancy hairpins, ornaments and combs are not proper features of girls' coiffures. They wear shell pins and combs to serve a practical purpose, but never in a decorative way. When the hair is not tied before it is put up a comb will be found most useful in keeping the hair in place and in making the dressing simpler. The combs rarely show, however, and when one does get a glimpse of them it is only of a bit of polished tortoise shell rim. Ribbon wound through the pompador and in and out of the coils make a pretty way to arrange the hair for a party. Ribbons are simple and artistic and commendably unostentatious.

ble faced kind a little over an inch wide gives the best results. The weaving may start at the back and cross in front through the pompador, then be brought back to the knot again and the ends tucked under a loop of the hair of the two tied in the knot.

How To Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong: He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, in drinking so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly restores stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Severs drug store. 50c.

Handsome Improvements

In the store of F. Fraze some very handsome improvements have recently been installed by Mr. Fred Fraze. Modern wardrobes for men's clothing are among the new furnishings and brighter lights are being placed all over the building. These new additions do not only add to the convenience of the firm, but they are very attractive.

Correction

It was omitted in last week's News that one of the boxes of cigars given in the foot race contest at the Masonic barbecue, was given by Miss Lillian Sippel.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Horebine makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the whole system.

SEA BATHING.

The Effects of Salt Air and Water on the Human Body.

There is a reason why parents have in all times and in all ages endeavored to give their children the benefit of sea air and sea bathing. An Italian physician, Gerosa, tells about it:

It is agreed, he says, that all living organisms began their first existence in salt water and that as a result the human body (and indeed every animal body) is largely made up of salt. If you taste your blood or your tears, which are the extract of blood, you will find that both are quite salt in flavor. More than this, however, every living being possesses within his body, in the cellular stage, all those strange marine organisms which a study so seriously attracts the attention of scientists.

says Gerosa, that the amount of sea water contained in every body is equal to one-third of that body's weight. It is clear, then, that the individual's rudimentary form all known marine life must be present in the blood. The result is that when we bathe in the sea or swim in it, we replace the sea salt in the amount of essential salt which is constantly decreasing in the system and, all unconsciously to ourselves, weakening it. Salt water, says Gerosa, is really the main principle of life, since it is the first condition of existence which the living organisms knew. It is therefore always good for the body, whether it be enjoyed at the seaside or brought in bottles from the sea. In particular it is very valuable in the case of weakling children, and there is really the main principle of life, since it is the first condition of existence which the living organisms knew. It is therefore always good for the body, whether it be enjoyed at the seaside or brought in bottles from the sea. AS TO THE SALE OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

§ 2557a. Intoxicating beverage—Penalty for selling—What constitutes sale. It shall be unlawful for any one to sell, barter or loan, directly or indirectly, any beverage, liquid mixture or decoction of any kind which produces or causes intoxication in any county, city, town, district or precinct, in which the sale, barter, or loan of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors is or shall be prohibited in accordance with the local option law. Any person who shall sell, barter or loan, directly or indirectly any such beverage, liquid mixture or decoction in any such county, city, town, district or precinct shall, upon conviction, be fined the sum of not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense; and any sale, barter or loan of any article, with the agreement, expressed or implied that the right or title to or possession of any such beverage, liquid mixture or decoction shall also pass, shall be considered a sale, barter or loan within the terms of this act.

Don't get worried over this dry spell, it is sure to be followed by a wet one.

The campaign hat; what is it? A thing of emptiness, a vision of neglect. Let it pass.

If Col. Bryan could run as well in November as he does in August and September, he would surely win out.

Our new story. Are you reading it? If not go right after it. It is good, it is interesting from start to finish. Get busy.

There is not a voter but what knows right now how he will vote in November. And all the campaign speeches and campaign literature will not change him.

Col. Eli Dean, over on the "Branch," says he has corn so tall that he will have to use a ladder to gather it. His is only a fair sample of many crops on the "Branch."

We extend our heartiest congratulations to our beloved friends and honored citizens, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Keith, who celebrated their golden anniversary of their wedding Monday.

If your potatoes are rotting, don't be in a hurry to dig them. The Farm Journal says let them stay in the ground till they get through rotting. The cold days will usually put an end to the rot.

There ought to be more men like Sam Dowell, of Irvington, in this county. He made many a little tot happy last week and some big ones too. We congratulate you Mr. Samuel on your good work.

There are some blind tigers in this town, so they say. If there are we want the tigers who have eyes to open them and read some law covering that traffic published at the head of this column. It is good reading for all of us.

What are you doing about prosperity? Are you doing something yourself to bring it back, or are you just watching to "catch it when it comes round again?" The thing to do is to get busy with your hands and hold your tongues.

Don't miss John Ditto's dream in this issue. To read it, makes one feel he has had a real fox hunt over the hills in old Meade. John has some rare experiences with the dogs and horse, and he knows well how to tell the story of them.

The fall season is now upon us. Let's all get busy doing something. If it's only cutting weeds, it will help. If one man goes to cutting his neighbor will generally follow suit. It is just as necessary to cut the weeds at the right time as it is the corn or the wheat.

Our subscription list was never more active. Never a week passes but what we add from twenty to twenty-five new names—all cash in advance. People like a paper with backbone and the courage of its convictions. They like a paper that does what it says it will do.

One hundred dollar colts, eighty-five dollar colts and sixty-five dollar colts is another sign of prosperity with a big P. We've got 'em right here in our county, and we are going to have more of them too. Watch our colts grow and watch them move, out at the County Fair today and tomorrow.

We have always said that Cloverport was an ideal summer resort. Now we have proof of it. Read what Dr. Ritter says in his letter published in this issue. For a real, genuine, healthful, restful, up-building of the body and mind, spend your summers in this beautiful old town on the banks of the Ohio.

In Des Moines Mr. Bryan talked free trade, in Indianapolis sailed into corporations, and in Topeka proclaimed the necessity of the government guarantee of bank deposits. Mr. Bryan is geographically adjustable at a moment's notice, and never dismayed when one of his paramount issues blow up.—Globe-Democrat.

With a corn crop this year of 2,707,000,000 bushels against 2,592,000,000 bushels in 1907, and a wheat crop of 678,000,000 bushels, a gain of 44,000,000 bushels over last year, bringing the farmers of the country $1,920,000,000 against $1,336,000,000 last year, spells prosperity in big letters. This means more business for the railroads and the manufacturers, more work for the working man at higher

To the Readers of This Paper.

We have contracted with this newspaper for many columns of advertising space to tell and furnish you each week, black on white, many good reasons why it will pay you to deal with us. We are the oldest department store in Louisville. Having been in business for 63 years. We buy for cash and in large quantities, which enables us to buy cheaper, consequently we can sell cheaper. Particularly have our buyers closed many advantageous deals this year on account of trade conditions. We will tell you about these transactions in our future announcements—watch for them.

To deal here does not necessarily mean you must do your shopping in person, although if you do come here, you will save more than enough on your purchase to pay your traveling expenses. We have however, a large mail order department, with a corps of experienced mail order clerks, who fill mail orders to the same satisfaction to the purchasers as if they bought the goods in person.

THE KENTUCKY STATE FAIR, which is to be held in our city September 14th to 19th, is going to be a great fair; everybody will come to Louisville to see it. You do not want to miss it. We take this means of inviting you to both the State Fair and to our big store. We will see that your stay with us will be pleasant and floor attendants will take pleasure in having you shown through our entire establishment.

wages, and an increased activity in all lines. Prosperity is right here; are you ready for it?

There is one thing the farmers of this county are not going to do, with all of their prosperity and good crops, throw their good hard dollars into a campaign fund. Nobody but the politician will blame them either. They know how to vote, and for whom to vote, when the time comes. It won't require any hoodle to get them out either.

There are many men, says the Farm Journal, who do not place a true valuation upon their wives until they have lost them, and are obliged to hire only moderately interested housekeepers to whom they must pay real wages. Isn't this true? Better tip the wife instead of the waiter. Let gratitude and appreciation accompany the coin too. It pays.

More law-abiding, law-respecting men in this town should stand by Bro. Currie in his struggle for law and order. It takes a man with courage and back bone to do and preach for the up-holding of the law and the peace and order in a community. Some people say it is none of his business, but it is. It is every good citizens business whether preacher or layman, to see that the law is up-held.

The Nashville Christian Advocate in an editorial has this to say regarding Mr. Taft's religious views. We believe with the Advocate that it is politics, pure and simple, and mighty cheap politics at that. Hear the Advocate: "The editor of the Christian Advocate begs leave to say, in answer to multiplying inquiries, that he considers the effort to make out that Mr. Taft is not a Christian because he is a Unitarian very cheap politics. The Unitarian doctrine is not a very vital one to propagate among sinners, but that a man may hold it personally and at the same time be a Christian of a high type has been demonstrated over and over again. We had not supposed that anybody would even raise a question on such a point. Whether or not Mr. Taft is a Christian does not turn upon whether he is a Unitarian, but upon whether he is a Christian. We have seen no reason to doubt that he is. We trust that no church people, however orthodox, will be drawn into a propaganda which is politics, pure and simple, and which could only result, if taken up by them, in injury to the cause of religion."

"Our County Fair," that is just what it is. That is the broad way to put it. It is no one man's fair or set of men. It is for the whole people, from every section, from every hamlet and from every home word should go out, "Our County Fair" is on today, and it is my duty as a citizen of the good old county of Breckenridge to lend my presence to its success. A good county fair is an uplift to any county. It broadens our views; it gets us in touch with better things and better modes of doing things. It whets our ambition, stimulates our efforts for better work; makes us happier, gets us out of ruts and improves conditions in every way. Go to the Fair one day, at least, and have an outing and a good time. Go and shake hands with your neighbor, see the fine horses, fine cattle, fine hogs, fine chickens, and then go home with the determination—if you haven't any of these fine things—to have some for the next fair. All these add to our wealth, our standing and to our reputation for a great farming and stock raising people. There is not a bit of reason why we shouldn't rank with any county in the State when it comes to raising stock. We have the land, the water and the soil. All we have to do is to get right down to good hard business farming. Get rid of the scrubs and instead of two scrub horses, cows or hogs, get a good one of each and start in new. You get advanced ideas about all these at a good fair. Ours will be a grand one, you bet, and you will miss something if you are not there.

Resolutions.

Cloverport Lodge No 133, F. & A. M. Cloverport, Ky., Aug. 29, 1908.

Whereas, It has pleased the Grand Master of the Universe to remove from our midst, on the 31st. day of July, our beloved brother, John David Gregory:

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the Divine Will, we sincerely realize that in his death Masonry has lost a true and faithful member, his family a devoted husband and father, and the community an honorable and upright citizen.

Resolved, That we extend our utmost sympathy to the bereaved family in their affliction, and commend them into the hands of the Almighty Creator of the Universe, who has done all things well.

Resolved, That as a memorial to our departed brother, these resolutions be made a part of the records of the Lodge, a copy be sent to the Masonic Home Journal and the Breckenridge News for publication. And the members of the Lodge wear the badge of mourning for a period of thirty days.

Gallons of Whiskey

Awaiting Destruction.

The enforcement of the prohibition law in Georgia and the raiding of illicit stills has resulted in the accumulation of 3,000 gallons of whiskey in the basement of the Federal building at Atlanta. Revenue officers have confiscated this quantity of liquor, and are awaiting final instructions as to its disposal.

Before the state prohibitory law went into effect, it was the policy of the government to sell at auction liquors confiscated by revenue officers. Since the enactment of the prohibitory law, such a disposal becomes impossible, and the prohibitive favor that this liquor will be emptied into the Atlanta sewers.

To Keep Salt Dry.

To prevent salt in saltcellars from becoming damp and lumpy, when filling them put in ten to twelve pieces of rice, says Woman's Home Companion for September. "This will not come through the holes in the cover of the saltcellars, but will break the lumps of salt and gather the moisture; thus the salt is always dry and fine."

Mr. Mendel Dies

Mr. George Mendel, who has been seriously ill for the past few months of tuberculosis of the throat, died at 4:30 o'clock Monday morning at his home on Clay street.

Mr. Mendel leaves a wife, mother and four sisters and two brothers. The sisters are Mrs. George Schaad, Mrs. James H. Hilton, Mrs. A. Stengle and Mrs. Yewell Haskins. His brothers are Messrs. Henry Mendel, and Charles Mendel, of Terre Haute.

Mr. Mendel was employed as a tailor at Schwab's tailor shop for fifteen years. He was thirty-one years of age.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The services will be conducted from the Zion Evangelical church. The interment will be at Elmwood, Owensboro Requirer.

Mrs. Mendel has frequently visited Mrs. Tom Bohler in this city. Mr. Mendel was here last summer.

REMEMBER THE SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Ivington.—It is a well-known fact that a lie will travel around the world while the truth is pulling on its boots. And yet, men who claim to possess an average amount of brain power, (all the while believing they have an unusual amount) will let a foolish lie penetrate their gray matter and find lodgement there, where it hatches a dozen little lies, each one siller than its parent. An old man whose vigor of mind is impaired, as well as the vigor of his body, is excusable in some measure for getting frightened at foolish imaginings, just as a child would be. Not so the young man whose mental and physical vigor is unimpaired. He ought at least to use the reason that nature endowed him with. How many men who voted in the recent school election had read the new school law? How many investigated the truth or falsity of the assertions made many of which could have been refuted by a careful reading of the law. It is so much easier for the mind to believe a lie than to arraign it before the bar of his better judgement. Belief comes easier than investigation to many people, but not to the men and women who count on the long run. This new school law passed by our good legislators is the best Kentucky has ever had. The good men and women of our great parties who helped to pass it, because they had the future of the 650,000 youth of our fair commonwealth on their hearts, deserve the thanks of every honest man and woman in our communities. Our far seeing Prof. Crabbs, who superintends educational matters in our state, deserves our hearty support not less does our own conscientious worker, Mr. Pile. It is a poor spirited man or woman who will withhold his support from the winning side because it was not his side. Our newly elected district trustees who will form our county board will have no easy time if they are faithful to their trust. Their remuneration will be but little more than pay traveling expenses and board bill for their trips to the county seat in order to discharge their duties. Careful and intelligent investigation of the needs of the schools in their districts will entail much time and thought. Where and how to use our increased tax to the best advantage so its community may get the whole benefit of its tax, will be another problem.

Our trustees will have plenty to do. If they show a disposition to do it honestly and conscientiously in the name of our beloved state, whose unenviable position is thirty-second in the descending scale in educational matters, let's help them. In the wake of Kentucky's manhood and womanhood let's help them. Fortunately not many of us can leave our children much money, let's leave them a rich heritage in the form of good schools and superior educational facilities.

She Was Delirious.

It is said that Dr. H. H. Crank, the famous author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," made a habit of leaving at his bank the manuscript of each of her stories as soon as they were completed. It would remain there perhaps six months, and then she would call for it and see how the story affected her during that lapse of time. If it pleased her, the manuscript was sent to the publisher. Otherwise it was rewritten or thrown away.

Ear Wagging.

Only animals with long and drooping ears are able to wag them. A rabbit, for instance, can do what it likes with its ear, dropping one or both and laying them flat along its back when dashing through thick cover. Hares are still more brisk in ear movements. But short eared beasts, like weasels and stoats, are unable to wag their ears in any degree, although they have enough ear to wag if they had the power.

Accurate.

"See here, landlord, said an angry tenant after he had signed the contract for a year, 'this house is full of sewer gas.'"

"Yes, that's what I told you."

"Told me?"

"Yes. You asked me if there was gas in every room, and I said there was"—London Answers.

Mme. de Sturve's Will.

Secretary Blaine had said of Mme. de Sturve that she was the brightest woman he had ever met, and everybody who knew her agreed with him. Her knowledge of English was remarkable, even for a Russian, and her sallies were famous. For instance, the day when Secretary Bayard was made head of the American diplomatic service his daughter, Miss Kate Bayard, said laughingly to a young secretary of legation, "Remember, I am now dictator of your chief!" to which came, even as a flash, the retort from Mme. de Sturve's lips, "Oh, we all know that you are mischievous"—Army and Navy List.

SIX GREAT DAYS AT THE KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

The Special Days program has been announced, with Fred W. Kelsker, President of the Louisville Commercial Club, as general chairman of the Special Days committee. The first day will be known as Governor's Day and School Children's Day. It will mark the dedication of the new $100,000 Live Stock Pavilion, which is now nearing completion, and which when finished will be by far the greatest exhibition hall in America. It is a building which will reflect credit not only to the management of the State Fair, but to the state itself. The ceremonies will include an address by Governor Wilson read in all probability a number of other distinguished speakers will be present on that occasion. School children will be admitted that day to the event at half price.

Tuesday, Sept. 15th, will be College Day and Fraternal Day. Prof. F. Paul Anderson of the State University at Lexington, is chairman, and Charles B. Norton of Louisville, vice chairman for that day. On account of the very low railroad rates a much larger attendance of college students than usual is expected, and Prof. Anderson is actively working for large delegations from all the various colleges and universities in the state. All the fraternal organizations of Louisville and other cities and towns of the state are invited to join in the effort to make this one of the biggest days of the fair. On this day the judging in all departments will begin. Horse and cattle awards will be made in the new show pavilion, while all other livestock, poultry and other departments will be judged in areas especially prepared for that purpose.

Wednesday, Sept. 16th, will be Louisville Day and Southern Indiana Day. Mayor James F. Grinstead of Louisville will be chairman, and Jacob Best, mayor of New Albany, and E. N. Flynn, mayor of Jeffersonville, vice chairmen. The mayors of all three cities will issue a half-day proclamation. In addition to the many attractive horse races, jack stock, Hereford and Angus cattle, Ayrshire cattle, Durock-Jersey and Chester White Swine, Hampshire, Cotswold and American Merino sheep will be judged. Thursday, always the largest in attendance of the week, will be known as Kentucky Day and Press Day. On no single day or event in the year are so many Kentuckians in attendance as on the state assembled together. Mr. Tim Needham, Williamstown, Ky., president of the Kentucky Press Association, is chairman for that day and has named for his associates a number of the most widespread young newspaper men of the state, and if plans do not miscarry it will prove a genuine reunion of the members.

Governor Wilson will call a meeting of all persons interested in good roads on Kentucky day on this day at the Evans City, Ky., convention. The club, and fiscal court in the state will be invited to send delegates, and it is expected to here organize a permanent Good Roads Association in Kentucky. The question of securing the adoption by the people in 1909 of the Bosworth good roads amendment to the Constitution will be discussed. With low railroad rates and the State Fair attractions, it is thought a record-breaking crowd of good road advocates will be on hand.

Friday, Sept. 15th, has been designated as Equity Day and Grange Day. J. Campbell Cantrell of Georgetown, Ky., president of the Kentucky Branch Grange Society of Equity, has been named as chairman and F. Wolcott of Covington, Ky., Master of the Kentucky State Grange, vice chairman. Arrangements are being made for an immense parade of the members of the Society of Equity, composed of the many tobacco growers in both the dark patch and burley districts, through the streets of Louisville that day. This powerful organization, assisted by that noble band of true and enlightened farmers known as the Patrons of Husbandry, are uniting their efforts and walking shoulder to shoulder in this move and propose to make it an event of far-reaching importance and of the greatest interest to the Kentucky farmer. Miss Alice Lloyd, the daughter of the Society of Equity, will deliver an address. The judging in all departments except horses will be concluded that day, and in the afternoon there will be a grand parade of all the prize winners, horses, mules, jacks and cattle in the Livestock Pavilion, with ribbons attached and awards placed in the order the awards were made.

Saturday, the last day, will be Everybody's Day. Anyone not classed under any other day will certainly be included in this.

Fairs Time-Keepers of Progress. President McKinley in his last speech made upon the grounds of the Buffalo Exposition, said, "The things: 'Fairs and Expositions are the timepieces which mark the progress of nations, and every fair, great or small, has helped in some way or other to the progress of the world.'"

The Kentucky breeder of livestock cannot bring his stock before the public for attention better than at the State Fair, and the address, and the premium at the Kentucky State Fair.

Crime And The Yellow Press.

In recent months the band of daring Paris criminals, the Araches, have committed so many bold and terrible crimes that the authorities have resolved to capture them at all cost. The first step decided on in the suppression of the band is interesting; it is an order to the police that they shall refuse to supply the sensational French newspapers with pictures of criminals or to permit the photographing of rooms where crimes were committed or of the bodies of victims in murder cases.

The police of every city know that many crimes are the result of suggestion and the most fruitful source of suggestion is the "yellow journal" which makes the criminal a hero and devotes columns to a detailed narrative of some horrible murder. The man who has committed the evil deed at once becomes a hero in the eyes of his associate and many others are encouraged to imitate him and thus become "famous" themselves.

The Paris authorities are the first to enforce a rule which should be effective in every city. Photographic reproduction of room with the furniture discarded, the walls blood-stained and a "cross showing where the body lay," and even worse the photograph of the dead bodies of murder victims, have placed in reputable newspapers under any circumstances; to print them accompanied by narratives which present the criminal as a hero and represent the police as blundering and incompetent is to encourage crime. Chicago, Evening Post.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates often, if the urine is scanty, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and sure, immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail for 10c. A pamphlet telling how to Swamp-Root all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers, is being sent free. Write to Dr. H. W. Barker, 100 N. Y. St., New York, and mention this paper.

Bridge Nearing Completion

Mr. J. G. Brashear informs the correspondent, that by Saturday the Henderson Route's new pier in Salt river, will have attained the required height of 101 feet, and that on or about September 1st work upon the superstructure will be begun and pushed rapidly to completion.

About the middle of November, the Henderson Route expects to use their own tracks, from Henderson to Louisville. The low stage of water and the weather has been ideal for the work. Elizabethtown News.

A Fox Hunt Dream

By John T. Ditto

Not long since at my present home in Decatur, Ill., a beautiful moonlight night my mind wandered back to the days of my life on the farm in Kentucky where my pleasure was with dogs and horse. I suppose my mind did not clear up on the subject before retiring for I had a dream that night that was a hair raise and a mind splitter. My dream was about a fox hunt. As I recall it very vividly there came a fine, soft, balmy morning and all conditions seemed to be right for a little run. In fact, they were so good I could not resist the temptation, although I had plenty of farm work that demanded my attention.

However, I started my farm hands out on enough outlived jobs to keep them employed for two days or more. (These plans are necessary, for when you start out on a fox hunt there is no telling when you will get in, if there is anything doing in the woods with good company and stayers.) I did not have to blow the horn for old Wallace, Sam Brown and one or two others who were watching my movements, because they knew as well as I did it was the right kind of a morning for such work.

No wife those days to get a permit from, so I strolled one of my favorites and we struck for the old hunting grounds back of McGehee's, Ditto's and McAuliff's. Just after I had crossed the railroad, back of McGehee's on the ridge, I noticed my old, reliable Wallace, starting far on ahead with tail and head up, sniffing the air and brushing every step. I saw his tail begin to switch, his head lift a little higher and off to the left he went! It was not long before he gave a cry, the kind that rings certainty of a chase that you can bet will soon be on, and on right. Sam Brown was on his heels at the second mouth and the others soon joined in and off they went towards McAuliff's old field and I followed at break neck speed, to get a favorite point—all of the sweetest.

When I reached the advantage point up the road, my friend, the Shrewsbury boy, and old Sally and DuKelle and a couple of pups that were just beginning to run well, appeared upon the scene. Before Shrewsbury reached me Sally and DuKelle learned that there was something going on and in a twinkling of an eye, they were at the heels of my dogs. They took a round to the west back of Brandenburg, and then turned in our course again. About the time they got near us up the road, my old friend, Gus W. Richardson, (known as our red fox politician, always ready to run for any office open to him) came along with him and he would put up the money for him and he met generally won out) made his appearance. Gus knew it was a glorious morning and he had come down with a few of his real live and "Yellow" good ones. Before the greeting of "how do you do" could pass, old Leno, Blue Dick, little ring neck had "lined in" and the sticks began to crack. Hair raising time was then sure on over about ten or twelve true bucks as well followed the fox, were in business. They took a course toward Doe Run creek, went up for a mile and then pulled toward us again. We rode the ridges and never lost hearing any time. By the time they had made this round they were all settled down to business, running in a pack that could be covered with a blanket and not a bobble nor a hitch was there! They ran at this gate three hours then to cover out back of my father's old place. "Come boys lets go for a bite to eat" and with this invitation my dream vanished.

BEARD BROTHERS COLT SHOW.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Beard Bros. Colt Shows held here Saturday afternoon were well attended with much interest in the get of their fine breeding stock. Altogether, it was a very fine line of colts shown. Of the ten Sporting Boy's string shown, the first prize went to Moses Payne's colt, of Harned, the second, to W. R. Moorman & Sons, of Glendene, and the third to Frank Black, of Custer.

Three Clydesdale colts were shown, the premium going to C. L. Beard and E. W. Tucker.

Seven male colts contended for the premiums. Percy Beard's got first. The second premium was divided between the colts exhibited by John Pile, of Mook, and John P. Tucker, of Harned. Mr. Payne sold his colt for $100. Moorman & Son refused $100 for theirs. Mr. Black sold his for $85.

Beard Bros. are every year adding to their reputation as breeders of the finest stock and their patronage is steadily growing.

Politics or Indifference Cause Lack of Prohibition Law Enforcement.

Internal Revenue Collector J. O. Thompson, of Alabama, having made a very careful study of the temperance situation in that state, reports that the lack of enforcement of prohibitory law is due to officers being influenced by politics or to their absolute indifference to the enforcing of the law. It is recommended that an independent constabulary, whose sole duty shall be to ferret out evidence and prosecute violations of temperance laws, shall be appointed and held strictly responsible for this service.

It is absurd to plead that the state has not sufficient officers to enforce the law. The difficulty in law enforcement is thoroughly attributed to the reasons given above. Mr. Thompson states that during six years, eight collectors in Alabama have destroyed between 700 and 800 illicit distilleries. He further states there are sixty-seven sheriffs in the state and probably about two hundred deputies, and if they were all disposed to enforce the law. It would be practically impossible for blind tigers to exist.

The attitude of Collector Thompson in criticizing the method of law enforcement by the sheriffs and deputies has commenced to bring these officers into the public light, and they are beginning to act more forcibly against the illicit liquor sellers.

CANOING AS A TONIC

There are few aquatic sports which women have ventured to enjoy, but of these there is none more popular and genuinely beneficial than canoeing.

Not only as a form of recreation and exercise for the development of the muscles of the arms, back, chest, and shoulders will canoeing be recommended. For square shoulders it is not nearly as good as rowing, but the frail little craft needs a cool head and a steady hand to keep it from rolling over, and in that it has an advantage over rowing. Certainly it is a more delightful and less laborious sport than rowing, and may be safe to have the additional incentive to the venturesome spirit in the possibility of danger from an upset.

The best season of the year for cruising is September. Even drifting along with a moving stream, the canoe demands guidance that may require considerable physical exertion and an activity which the hot summer days of August or July would not permit. There are few days of September when the canoeist could not be out upon the stream at mid-day and not fear the ill of excessive torridity.—Walter Mayfield in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine for September.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

U.S. DISPENSATORY

Describes the Principal Ingredients Contained in the Formula. Are we claiming too much for Fenna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Fenna is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensatory says of the principal ingredients of Fenna.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal catarrh), atrophic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice (catarrh of the liver), and in diseased mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of disease peculiar to women.

Another ingredient of Fenna, cordylis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensatory as a tonic. So also is the treatment of various forms of disease peculiar to women.

Cedron seeds is another ingredient of Fenna, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. The seeds are to be found in very few drug stores. The United States Dispensatory says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intestinal diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Oil of copaiba, another ingredient of Fenna, is classed by the United States Dispensatory as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts as a stimulant on the genito-urinary membranes. Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhoea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Send us to for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Fenna as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

A BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE TO MRS. FRANCES RHODES

On the eve of Aug. 18 1908, near the Angelus Hour, our mother and friend, Mrs. Frances M. Rhodes, breathed her last, leaving behind her the hands of her Judge and Savior, "Aunt Fannie," as she was usually called, was one of the oldest ladies in our neighborhood, having reached the advanced age of 81 years, 10 months and 20 days. She was the daughter of James Hackley and Mary Willis Hackley, of Grayson county, Ky., but she was left an orphan at the tender age of six weeks, and reared by two kind old people, Mr. and Mrs. James Bartle, of Grayson county.

On Oct. 20 1884, she was married to Francis Rhodes, by Rev. Fr. De-Quacher, and came to this county and settled in the Forks of Rough two miles west of Middletown, where they lived until the time of their death. She was the mother of eight children and had fifty-five grandchildren and eighteen great grandchildren. She was a loyal Christian mother in every particular. She lived in the seclusion of her home where by the power of her example and entreaties she influenced her children in the way they should go. No one ever came beneath her roof that did not leave without gratitude for her kindness. The clergy, the aged, the sick, the orphans and even the slaves in early days all felt the heavenly dew of her kindness when near her home. Her purity, piety and charity were her three great virtues. She was a true and faithful member of the Catholic church having become a convert in her youth. Her death was one of piety and resignation to the holy will of God, but never did they cease giving her children good advice until the last few hours of life when the agony of death deprived her of speech.

Her funeral took place from St. Anthony's church, Louisville, Aug. 20 amid a large assembly of relatives and friends. Rev. John Francis-Kneu officiating. May her soul rest in peace.
